

2015 CamelBak Distinguished Alumni Award

The Distinguished Alumni Award recognizes a student-athlete who carries on the spirit of high school cycling beyond their high school years.

Jeremy Call, SoCal High School Cycling League

Jeremy has been involved in the SoCal High School League for many years — first as a rider and team captain on his high school team and now as a coach with SIMI Composite. Not only did Jeremy quietly fight through personal health issues as a student-athlete to make it to Varsity, but along the way he also encouraged and supported many of his fellow student-athletes. He graduated high school in the Spring of 2014 and immediately began working with his team as a coach. He not only supports and trains the high school kids but also shares his experiences with the many middle school students on the team. He never misses an opportunity to help out and even supports and trains with other teams such as Calabasas and Newbury Park. Jeremy was a valuable coaching addition to the SoCal Rider Camp at Mammoth last summer. Whenever he is coaching, he makes sure that all riders are having fun while pushing themselves to be the best riders they can be. Congratulations to Jeremy!

“It is so exciting to see student-athletes accomplish and enjoy the bike as much as I do. High School Mountain Biking creates bonds and experiences that everyone involved will never forget.”
